

How to Make a Scepter for Lesson 4 Memory Verse

Using sticky back foam is crucial for keeping this craft in the realm of super easy! I couldn't believe how well it held up to my son's abuse this morning, the jewels stayed on, although please only do this craft with kids that will not place the jewels in their mouths, they are a choking hazard. You could use markers and simply skip the jewels and glue.

Gather your materials. You will need a sheet of sticky back foam (sparkly if you can), a dowel, glue, plastic gems or sequins, scissors, ribbon and a marker.

Start by drawing 2 identical stars on the back of the same sheet of foam. I used a star cookie cutter as a stencil.

Cut out. Do not take the back off yet.

Glue the gems on.

Let dry. This took a long time. I pressed all the gems down a few hours after to make sure that the sparkly surface was stuck to the gem.

When dry peel back the paper on the underside of the star to reveal the stickiness press the dowel into it.

Peel back the paper on the 2nd and sandwich the dowel, press down carefully but with some force.

Add a ribbon and you are ready to rule the kingdom!
